POLITICAL PARADE

By CLEM WHITAKER

Prohibition, that red hot issue of yesterday, is back on the calendar again—and California, during the months just ahead, is scheduled to become one of the nation's first battlegrounds in World War II between the "wets" and the "drys".

With little fanfare, but diligent perseverance, California advocates of a local option prohibition amendment have been busily engaged for some time in circulating initiative petitions to qualify their proposal for a place on the November ballot.

While no public announcement has yet been made, it is now reliably reported in political circles that the required number of names has been obtained, with the result that a local control act will be submitted to the voters at the 1944 general election.

To make the issue official, the dry law sponsors have until June 9 to file 178,764 valid signatures with Secretary of State Frank Jordan. Filings have been made thus far totaling 57,323 signatures, from 38 of the state's rural communities.

As yet, however, no signatures have been filed from the populous counties of Los Angeles, San Francisco, Alameda, San Diego and Sacramento, although petitions have been in circulation in these areas for months past. But the news seeped out along the political rialto this week that the name-gathering job is virtually complete in the metropolitan districts and that when the signatures from these counties are filed they will boost the total to the 200,000 mark, well over the number required to place the issue before the voters.

The local control act, if approved by the people, would not automatically dry up the state, but would permit sections of the state which wanted to ban liquor to do so by local action. The measure which would be submitted to California voters is a constitutional amendment giving local voters this option.

There is also the possibility that the liquor issue will be submitted to the voters in a second constitutional amendment, sponsored by Assemblyman Lorne D. Middough of Long Beach, chairman of an assembly committee studying juvenile delinquency problems.

The Middough amendment, which has been titled by the attorney general—but which may or may not qualify—

Kiwanians Hear Forum Discussion Tuesday Noon

Rev. D. H. Baldwin acted as moderator of the forum discussion at the Kiwanis luncheon Tuesday in the absence of LBen Howard who was ill.

The discussion was opened by Rev. Baldwin with a brief outline of the interests and purposes of the meeting.

"What are we fighting for?" he asked. In answer he stated, "We are fighting international banditry and thugery. We are fighting for a freedom of thought and action within our own rights."

He feels that there is a possibility that we may have a disillusionment after the war similar to that of the last war, in the terms of our peace to come.

Arthur Tindall, another speaker, said that Germany comes first and foremost in a German's mind. That they, Junkers, may not like the Nazis but they approve of what the Nazis have tried to do as a German philosophy.

"At the present time the plan being considered in the post war plans for Germany is that we expect that all of the ruling class in that country are to be 'kicked out' and replaced by our own trained governors, who at the present time are being trained in various universities in this country."

Richard Gordon, the third speaker, discussed the present mode of giving relief and rehabilitation to the countries that have been overrun by the German forces. He said that he foresees a continuation of sufficient relief after cessation of hostilities to at least maintain a minimum standard of living.

E. Russell Kennedy was presented with a 12-year perfect attendance pin and Budd Levenberg with a one-year pin.

Ed Mosher of the San Jose club, Prentiss Brown and Louis Klindt, both of Los Gatos, were visitors.

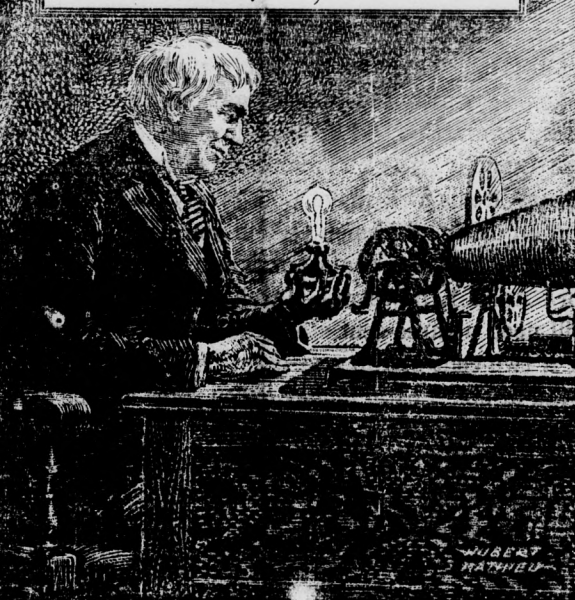

Next Tuesday will be an open meeting of the club with no speaker but general discussions.

Mrs. Fred James of Casey road returned last week from a visit with her son, Sergeant Robert James and family which now includes a son, Richard Alan, born March 1. Sgt. James has been stationed at Fort Ord ever since his induction as a member of the medical corps dental division. He expects to be sent overseas in the near future.

would eliminate the present requirement that food be served in bars and other places where hard liquors are dispensed. The effect of this amendment, says its author, would be to make all "on sale" liquor places "saloons," with the result that minors could be barred from the premises. Opposition already has developed to this proposal, however, on the ground that it would "bring back all the evils of the old-time saloon."

Dorothy Schmitz Is Bride of Sgt. George Shank

Miss Dorothy Schmitz of Oakland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Schmitz, and T/Sgt. George Shank were married Saturday, March 11, in Berkeley.

Sergeant Shank, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Shank of Campbell, was on furlough from Santa Ana where he has been stationed, and where he and his bride have an apartment.

Keeneys Sing Here Sunday

The solos which will be sung Sunday morning at the Methodist church by Mr. and Mrs. Ben Keeney, former singers in the San Francisco Opera company, are well-known oratorios. Mrs. Keeney will sing "These Are They" from "The Holy City" by Gaul. Mr. Keeney will sing, from the "Elijah" by Mendelssohn, the recitative "Ye People, Rend Your Hearts" and the aria, "If With All Your Hearts." Their duet will be from Mendelssohn's "Come Let Us Sing," "In His Hands Are All Corners of the Earth."

Dr. Karl Bode To Speak Here

This Sunday at 7 p. m. the Plymouth Youth forum of the local Congregational church will introduce to the public Dr. Karl Bode as their guest speaker. Dr. Bode is a professor of economics at Stanford and speaks, from wide experience, on the subject, "Germany and the Post War World."

Questions will be invited.

Plasma "Sale" Rumor Spiked By Red Cross

It having been brought to the attention of Mrs. Loyd Shank, chairman of the Campbell branch of the San Jose Chapter, American Red Cross that a report has circulated that service men are paying for the blood plasma they receive through the Red Cross blood bank, she has asked that such a rumor be most emphatically denied.

In a book issued by the American National Red Cross, "Questions and Answers," the following deal with this subject:

Page 42, paragraphs 142 and 143 state:

Is blood donated to the Red Cross available to civilians?

Yes. The needs of the army and navy must come first, but arrangements have been made to release plasma to the Red Cross for civilian use when needed in disasters.

Is the blood furnished by Red Cross blood donors ever sold?

No. All blood procured by the Red Cross Donor Service is delivered immediately to processing laboratories where it becomes the property of the army and navy.

With the many talks over the radio given by service men who have been given blood plasma transfusions, Mrs. Shank said it did not seem possible that such a rumor could receive any credence.

The Red Cross war fund drive for the Campbell district as of Wednesday afternoon was $2729, or 60 per cent of the quota, leaving $1,771 yet to go.

Country Women Hear Dr. Peterson Of State College

Due to a last minute change Dr. Victor Peterson of the chemistry department, San Jose State college, was the speaker at the meeting of the Campbell Country Woman's club on Monday. He chose as his subject "Plastics and Light Metals," and produced a sample of each article under discussion from his well-stocked case. He held the undivided interest of his listeners. Especially interesting to women was his talk on plastics, when he said that the name did not apply only to material with which to make small "gadgets," as is the common belief, but had scope large enough to take in such things as celanese Rayon and Nylon.

The musical portion of the program was furnished by Claude Grizzle, clarinetist and Marceline Benech, pianist, both of the Campbell Union High school music department.

During the business session called to order by Mrs. W. H. Van Dyke, president, money was voted for the Red Cross drive, and delegates elected to the forthcoming Santa Clara County Federation convention. The hall was beautifully decorated in spring blossoms, ferns, and tamaric. Committee in charge of the afternoon included Mesdames L. E. Hendricks, L. J. Campodonico, Nellie Mills, M. F. Hughes, J. B. Strong, David Ribble, Howard Church and Miss Lillian Cassidy.

Mrs. Ira Grim, program chairman, presented to the club that the suggestion had been made that only one program meeting be held each month for next year, the alternate meeting being devoted to war work. This matter will be presented to the members for a vote on April 17.

Figures Reveal Slight Rise In Cost Of Education

The Campbell Union High School district spent $175.04 for each of the 674 pupils in average daily attendance in the district in 1942-43, compared with $156.48 per pupil for the 745 pupils in attendance in 1941-42, California Taxpayers' association stated today, making public its analysis of pupil costs in 176 high school districts with more than 300 average daily attendance in California. Debt service and capital outlay expenditures are not included.

The district spent $116.29 per pupil for teachers' salaries in 1942-43, compared with $102.43 in 1941-42. Other current expenditures averaged $58.75 per pupil in 1942-43 compared with $54.05 for the year before.

Current expenditures per pupil went up in 167 of the 176 high school districts studied, with 88 increasing more than $25.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon in San Jose for Burgett F. Arnold who passed away in Watsonville Monday. Interment was in Oak Hill Memorial park.

Arnold lived in Campbell for 20 years, having been with his daughter, Mrs. Elsie Squires in Watsonville for but a few months. He was a native of Texas, 78 years of age.

Other surviving relatives are his wife, Arcadia E. Arnold of Watsonville; children, May Cramer of Chico, Lenna Hail of Nevada, Gladys Delando of Chico, Fay Beggs of Long Beach, June Moore of Chico, Sylvia Craig of Watsonville, James M. Arnold of Campbell, Carl Arnold of Watsonville, Bonny Brown of Los Banos; brother of Lem Arnold of Texas, Robert Arnold of Washington, D. C., Sadie Heaver of Michigan and Alice Cartwright of Texas; grandfather of 14 grand children and great-grandfather of seven children.

High PTA Waste Paper Drive On

A local paper drive being conducted by the high school PTA is part of the U. S. Victory Waste Paper campaign which was started recently by the American Newspaper Publishers association at the urgent request of Donald M. Nelson of WPB.

Boy Scout Troop 31 also has a "drive" on.

Nelson declared that waste paper receipts must be increased another 25 per cent to avert serious threat to the progress of the war.

In calling upon Campbell to participate in the national campaign, Edwin S. Friendly, chairman of the national waste paper campaign, said, "the waste paper situation grows more critical each day."

Paper contributions to the scouts' drive should be left at the Congregational church, while those who wish to donate to the PTA should deposit waste paper at the high school bus shed.

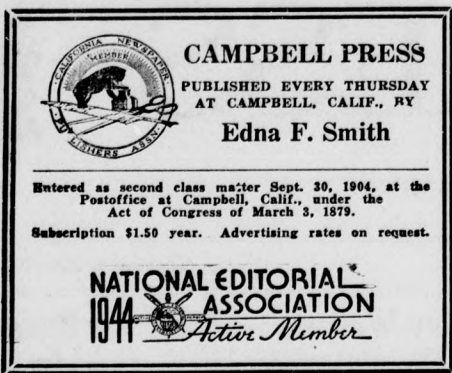

No Rush At Local P. O. March 15

There was no last minute rush at the local post office on March 15, deadline for the payment of federal income taxes, according to Postmaster Ira H. Grim, who said patrons had been mailing returns steadily for the previous two weeks and at no time was there a long waiting line. It was possible to give prompt service to nearly everyone and he and the office force appreciate the response to repeated warnings by the government to "mail early."

The St. Lucy's Women's club will hold their monthly whist party on Friday afternoon, March 31, at 2:15 in the parish hall. The committee in charge includes Mrs. Harry Cousins, chairman; Mrs. Ira Grim and Mrs. John Perata. The public is invited.

It is urgently requested that all items to be published in the Campbell Press be in the office by Wednesdays not later than 5 p. m. If possible, due to rearrangement of time schedules of the staff, time limits the amount of items that can be set up on Thursday.

THRIFT—REMEMBER IT?

This is the season when the humble taxpayer may have his day in court—when city, county and district budgets are in the making, and the man who foots the bill must boldly speak—or pay his taxes in the fall without a murmur.

This is the time of year for careful budget scrutiny. And this is the year of all years for shearing off every unwarranted governmental expenditure and substituting thrift for extravagance.

Runaway tax rates threaten many war-crowded communities, reeling under the double impact of reduced assessment rolls due to federal acquisition of property, and of mounting demands on schools, transportation, fire and other public facilities. The obligation to examine budgets for improvident demands rests heavily on the already weighted shoulders of home owners and other common property taxpayers. But no community is ever too small to require watchfulness at budget making time, nor too rich to bother over its tax rate.

On the subject of government and its soaring cost, the California Taxpayer's association gives this hard-headed warning: "The postwar world is going to have to be run with good sound common sense if the depths of a distressing aftermath are to be avoided. Anything but the absolute essentials for good government should be permanently out."

Since it is perfectly safe to assume that no program of drastic economy will overtake either federal or state government in the very near future, local and district demands must be pared and whittled and trimmed everlastingly.

But as sure as the blood of American ancestors flows in our veins, this nation eventually will shuck off the spendthrift philosophy acquired in recent profligate years, and turn again to the doctrine of disciplined government and public as well as private thrift. Homely virtues, perhaps, and only dimly remembered, but they are the unfailing bulwarks of both men and nations in times of stress.

PEACE PLAN

We can recognize no germ of peace in the proposal of the San Francisco Chronicle reader who wrote the editor to protest that the human family is a family in name only, and that a better word would result from the proper regrouping of mankind. "There should be one family house for all men," he advised, "and if it were so, all men would live like brothers."

Doubtless the idea has its roots in brotherly love, a priceless commodity which, admittedly, the world sorely lacks today. But when we picture the catastrophe of merely getting together all our relatives and all our wife's relatives in one house . . . well, that would be no incentive to peace we are quite sure. As in most families of the world, any such gathering of the clan would almost guarantee to promote a free-for-all. No, the essence of peace, we are afraid, lies not in such a project.

COURAGE—AND DOUBLE TALK

The recent exploit of an American flying lieutenant who single-handedly—and without permission—flew a giant Liberator bomber through heavy storms to blast the big Jap base at Rabaul, furnished a remarkable exhibition of courage—and double talk.

The courage, of course, was the flyer's. He successfully completed a job that ordinarily requires six or seven skilled airmen. The double talk came from his commanding general who said, "In one brief mission this young man has set for us both a very bad example and a most brilliant one."

But what else could a commanding officer say? American youth is brave to the extent of foolhardiness at times. But it is this very daring—doing the thing that can't be done or even shouldn't be done—that makes our men the fighters that they are.

The general made it clear that "such unauthorized and ill-advised efforts will positively be prohibited in the future," while in the same breath he declared, "His courage and determination to come to grips with the enemy are a source of pride and inspiration to all of us."

Well said, general! Well done, lieutenant!

NEW EXCISE TAXES

On April 1, you will begin paying higher excise taxes by which the federal government expects to collect more than a billion dollars in additional revenue annually. Tax on liquors, furs, jewelry and other luxury items will move up sharply. At the movies and on other admission tickets you will pay one cent tax for each five cents admission charge. Even before April 1, however—March 26, to be exact—you will need a three-cent stamp for local letters instead of a two-cent stamp and eight cents for airmail instead of six. Postal money order rates will be almost double the old fees. A $2.50 money order will cost ten cents; a $10 order, 19 cents and so on up to 37 cents depending upon the amount of the money order. It is believed that these new rates will encourage greater use of bank checking accounts for transferring money since the cost does not exceed ten cents per check. The cost of money orders issued by banks apparently will remain unchanged. On your local telephone bill the tax will increase from ten to 15 percent. Night clubbers will find that Uncle Sam's fee on their entertainment will jump from five percent to 30 percent. So it looks like we have Uncle Sam—as well as the devil—to pay.

JOE EASTMAN

Hardly more than a month ago Joe Eastman completed 25 years of public service devoted to helping America solve her transportation problems. His tasks were not easy. As head of the Office of Defense Transportation, he had to steer a course that frequently ran through the crossfire of congress, labor, capital, industry and the public. But Joe Eastman invariably followed the path which, in his able judgment, seemed fairest to all.

In his recent passing we have lost a man of whom the late Justice Brandeis once declared, "Joe Eastman has more interest in public service than any man I have ever known."

President Roosevelt told him when he went into the hospital, "The country needs you." In the days to come we may learn how much we needed him for it will require a man approaching his capacity to help get America's transportation wheels rolling smoothly again on a peace-time basis. With the attempt already under way to bring all transportation under the domination of the railroads through legislation permitting "integrated ownership" of all types of transport, we will miss a man like Joe Eastman who could have been a powerful influence in keeping our transportation system free from monopolistic control.

Joe Eastman was an expert in his field and he was a statesman as well. He was one of those rare individuals in whom everybody had confidence whether they agreed with him or not. His contributions to the public welfare will have a lasting effect.

SIMPLE—VERY SIMPLE

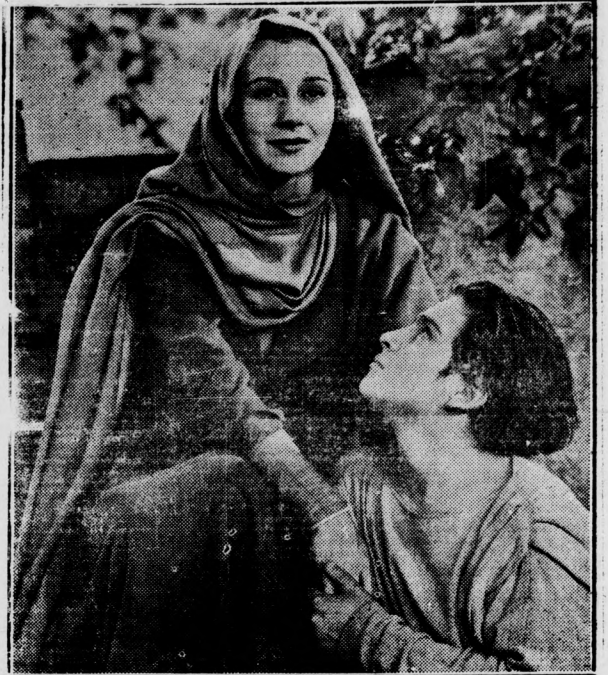

Nothing could be more simple than a shoe lace—so we thought.

However, the "GI" description makes it a trifle complicated by stating that it "consists of a manually operated length of string joined together by stitching so as to form a superficially broad-surfaced-appearing ribbon of rugged texture."

Is that what we use to keep our shoes on?

Journey to Jerusalem

Religious Film at Methodist Church

The film depicting the story of the "Journey to Jerusalem" of the 12-year-old Jesus and His parents will be shown at the local Methodist church the evening of Wednesday, March 29.

The story came from the pen of Maxwell Anderson and the play was depicted by the original Broadway cast of 33 artists. Little is known of Jesus' early life and Anderson, selecting a passage from Luke which tells of a Passover pilgrimage to Jerusalem by the boy and His family, chronicles the journey.

Paul M. Roberts of the merchant marine, who had been home from a trip to the South Seas left by train Monday for New York from which port he will receive a new assignment. Roberts is the husband of the former Emily Bohnett and son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Bohnett.

To Go On Air for Jack Anderson

Speaking on behalf of Congressman Jack Anderson, Glenn R. Baker, widely known business man of the Eighth Congressional district, and field representative for the congressman, will go on the air Friday night, March 24 at 10:15 o'clock. The talk will be heard over Station KQW.

Baker reported today that he has a message from the congressman in Washington of importance to the people of the district. Baker said today it is not likely that Anderson will be able to get away from his duties in congress to participate in his campaign for reelection, unless his work for the house naval affairs committee brings him west on official business. Even so, Baker declared, Anderson would not be here more than a day or two.

THE BOOK MARK

"DRAGONWYCK"

By Anya Seaton.

At 18, Miranda Wells was bored with life on a farm in Massachusetts. Her dreams of luxury, fine clothes, high society and romance engulfed her. In secrecy she read books loaned to her by a friend; books of adventure, great ladies and wealth. Miranda's mother, though a pious, home loving soul, sensed her daughter's desires and shared with her her longing for riches and excitement. Miranda's father, a man of the soil, loved his family of seven dearly, but was unable to understand his daughter who was not happy and satisfied with her life at home. Each evening after supper father gathered his brood into the parlor for scriptures and prayers. Although Miranda was present her thoughts wandered far from home.

One day a letter arrived for Miranda's mother from a distant relative who lived in wealth in a castle on the Hudson, Nicholas Van Ryn. Mr. Van Ryn wrote to invite one of the Wells girls to come and live with him and take a position as tutor to his small daughter. Miranda went and with her going those dreams of glory began to be realities. Parallel with the glory and oft times transcending it Miranda experienced heartbreak, loneliness, horror, tragedy.

It is in the middle 1800's that the story takes place. Though the time is a century ago the characteristic incidents, the human, passionate influences and reactions are as modern as human nature itself. The suspense is electrifying; the denouement is satisfying.

Anya Seaton's previous success, "My Theodosia" has a serious rival in "Dragonwyck."

In my humble opinion this book, for intensive, interesting entertainment, is the best one I have read in many months.

"Blossom Time" At Civic "Aud" Sunday, April 9

BARBARA SCULLY, featured as Mitzi in "Blossom Time."

The much-loved operetta, "Blossom Time," plays a single performance in the civic auditorium, San Jose, on Sunday evening, April 9, with the original company direct from the Ambassador theater, New York, where it played all last summer. Barbara Scully, young and lovely, with a high, true voice, plays the part of Mitzi, with Doug Levitt as Schubert, a role in which he has starred over 1000 times.

Lawrence Tibbett, Metropolitan opera star, and one of America's internationally famous artists sings for the San Jose concert series on Tuesday evening, April 11. Tibbett is a Californian, from Bakersfield, where as a child he worked with the cowboys in roundups, and heard many a story from his deputy-sheriff father. While going to school in Los Angeles, Lawrence Tibbett had his first real chance at singing when he was offered a job singing prologues for the silent films. A patron of the arts heard his voice, and, impressed, made it possible for the young baritone to go to New York, where—after several years of hard study and effort, world fame blazoned his name as one of the greatest stars.

"The Student Prince" will show on April 16, also a Shubert production, direct from New York. All three events are Denny-Watrous attractions, and seats may be obtained at the Denny-Watrous box office at the civic auditorium.

A son, Hector, was born Sunday, March 12, at O'Connor sanitarium to Mr. and Mrs. George Holland of Gilman avenue.

The W. S. C. S. of the Methodist church will hold a general food sale Saturday, March 25, from 11 a. m. to 1 p. m. at Decker's market.

Edward S. Carmen, 21 of Campbell and Eleanor Jean Campbell, 20 of San Jose, secured a marriage license last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Goodridge have purchased the late Mrs. A. J. Farley home on North First street and are moving this week from their home on Central avenue.

Anthony Raffanti spent several days last week on business in San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Weaver were recent business visitors in San Francisco.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS

The Tanda group of Camp Fire girls had their first council fire on March 20. It was simple because of the new girls.

There was a short talk by Mrs. Don Severns as the girls marched in giving the Whelo Call. The group was presented with honor beads, and refreshments were served by Mildred Weeks and Lorraine Wood.

California May Have New Mint Industry, Said

Berkeley — California may be the new home of the mint growing industry. Eastern mint farms have become infected with a fungus to such an extent that it is becoming necessary to start again in a new area, according to Dr. Herbert L. Mason, associate professor of botany at the University of California.

The mint plant, Mentha piperita, grows well in California, Dr. Mason said. It is the source of not only peppermint flavoring but also of menthol. Before the war the Japs raised a great deal of mint and shipped the distilled oil. Their cheap labor gave them a corner on the menthol market.

There is wild mint growing in California, but very little is the true peppermint. Recently a number of specimens have been sent in to the Herbarium by people hoping to find a market for this wild mint. Usually the specimen is spearmint which is of no value commercially, Dr. Mason said.

Bethuel L. Garcia is home from Fort Custer, Nev., for a week's furlough and will return to that post where he is in a military police company. Garcia is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Garcia.

Educators to Confer Here Monday;
Campbell High to Play Host

Principal W. H. Van Dyke will be official host next Monday when teachers of schools throughout the county meet here.

Curriculum Revision
To be Discussed

On March 27, Campbell High School will play host to seven county schools who are meeting here to study curriculum revision so that the course of study will be more valuable to students. Curriculum specialists from University High School in Oakland will lead the discussions in the various divisions, which are divided into the following groups: administration, agriculture and shop, arts and crafts, commercial, communications, English, foreign languages, home economics, library, math, music, boys' P.E., girls' P.E., science, and social studies. Teachers at Campbell will act as chairmen of the different groups.

As the conference will start at 2 o'clock, Monday will be a minimum day. The Student Council will serve refreshments to the 161 guests, and act as guides when needed.

Word has come to Principal Van Dyke that the teachers from University High School who visited Campbell recently thought highly of the courtesy shown them by the students who conducted them around the campus.

Cpl. Barbara Davis
Returns for Visit

Cpl. Barbara C. Davis was a campus visitor last week. Having been a member of the WAC since last July, she is now stationed at Camp Carson, Colo. Her work is in the office of the station hospital. The camp is located at the foot of Pike's Peak. "The scenery," former French and Spanish teacher Davis said, "is beautiful, and I like my work." Cpl. Davis will return to Camp Carson after spending a few days with her parents in Oakland.

Servicemen's
Column

Campbell high's service list, already large is steadily growing and items of interest about the boys are coming in.

Ray Applegarth, fresh out of Farragut, is having an extended leave here, the reason—mumps!

Radioman 3/c Tom Jensen, who stopped by last week, has just finished Radar training at Treasure Island.

Somewhere in the South Pacific, enjoying a vacation with pay and hunting "monkeys" is Hoyt Jarrell, recently promoted from S2/c to S1/c. Until recently he has been stationed in the Hawaiian Islands but has moved again in his quest for bigger game. More details after the war.

From Pvt. Harvey Wood, now stationed at Ft. Bragg, North Carolina, for training as a machine gunner, comes word that he received his sharpshooter's medal while at Ft. Benning, Georgia. Like all service men Harvey would like to hear from his friends, who may reach him as follows: Pvt. Harvey Wood 19187287, Co. A., 397th Inf., APO 447, Ft. Bragg, North Carolina.

Now for a human interest story, a la Ripley. It seems Daryl and Paul Farnham, respectively cousin and brother of Jack Farnham, both graduated from Campbell High in 1940, entered the Army Air Corps at the same time, got their wings on the same day, arrived home on leave together, and are going back to their stations this coming Sunday.

Bob Bogner, class of '39, who entered the Army Air Force at the first of the year has just completed his boot training at Denver, Colorado. He is now waiting to be transferred to a gunnery school, where he will graduate as a 2nd lieutenant.

From Pvt. Newell W. Johnson 39139660, Co. C, S.M.D.T. V19 W.B.G.H., El Paso, Texas, comes this recent note:

Miss Thompson—I'm finally getting 'round to writing you a small note of thanks for sending the Campus Echo throughout the past five and one-half months. Every issue carries news that is both interesting and current in the news content.

It was with extreme interest that I read the letters that you printed from Gene Licon, now in the Marine Corps and Charles Murphy in the Army. Perhaps you could find space for one every once in a while.

Again let me say thanks and do keep up the good work.

Good luck and best wishes.

—Newell W. Johnson

The staff appreciates hearing from Newell and hopes he will write something about himself next time.

Sgt. Leo Parks of the U. S. Army, has been in India for the past two and a half years. He graduated from Campbell in 1941. He is expected home some time in June on a furlough.

Differences in language are no barrier to economic and political cooperation among the interdependent American republics. Haiti speaks French, the other Middle American countries Spanish, Brazil Portuguese, the United States English. But, all speak the language of democracy. A small but important member of the United Nations, Haiti helps the war effort by producing rubber-bearing plants, sisal, sugar, bananas, tannin, and castor oil (a lubricant for high-flying planes).
